DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1-41 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takahashi.

Takahashi discloses a package (7), a mass (9) coupled to the package, the mass including an active region (top surface) spaced apart from the at least one point of attachment (bottom surface), one or more substantially rigid members or one or more resilient couplings (p1) for attaching the at least point on the surface to the package.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 04-10-2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues (1) that Takahashi does not teach a rigid member used to create a resilient coupling, (2) that Takahashi does not disclose the mass having an active and passive region. The examiner disagrees. With respect to (1) and (2) it has been addressed in previous paragraphs.

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
